Meet Jonathan Wright

Jonathan, our Director of Sales and Consultative Services, has 16 years of cards experience, including retail and account executive roles. A People Pleaser at heart, Jonathan loves to serve and finds the most satisfaction in finding solutions to problems. His mother instilled this value early on in his life - it's what drives him every day.

He's an expert in retail sales and operational flow, portfolio performance analytics, fraud and network, contract review, RFP, and strategic consulting practices. He asks the most important questions upfront: "What issues need attention? We can't begin to fix if we don't acknowledge what's broken."

Jonathan's skills and drive have helped him excel in his career. He wants to know how financial institutions define success in their cards programs. Jonathan believes in working for his clients first. When they are successful, he's successful.
